
1/67 Misuse of attorney letterhead

It is improper for an attorney to lend to a collection agency or other lay business client the use of his letterhead for their own collection purposes, or to sell a letter in blank written on his letterhead, to assist others in collection of debts, as stated in the May, 1962, informal opinion of this committee. (1/3/67)