
6/70 D Branch office requirements

A lawyer may establish limited office hours in a branch office in a bank in a town nearby his main office. Such conduct is proper if the lawyer is not trying to use the bank as a business feeder, and he should use a separate room or facility in the bank building if possible. If the lawyer is an officer of the bank, he must maintain his law office in quarters separate from the bank proper. (6/11/70)
