

---

6/77 B      Fee agreement with substituted counsel

---

Where a client had a contingent fee contract with an attorney and breached the contract by discharging the attorney and substituting other counsel, the original attorney is entitled to the benefit of his/her contract less the value of the services necessary to complete performance of the contract.