Wisconsin CLE Requirements

The BBE monitors lawyer compliance with SCR Chapter 31, the rule outlining continuing legal education attendance and reporting requirements for Wisconsin-licensed lawyers.

How many credits do I need?

As a Wisconsin lawyer, you need 30 continuing legal education (CLE) credits every two calendar years. Three of those 30 need to be in approved coursework in the area of legal ethics and professional responsibility (EPR).

Lawyers have the option to earn a maximum of six credits on subjects designed to enhance a lawyer's awareness and understanding (LAU) of substance abuse/dependence disorders, mental illness, stress management, and work/life balance relating to the practice of law.

Lawyers may obtain another six credits on the subject of law practice management (LPM) which may include topics such as client communications, trust accounting, record keeping, applications of technology, and other subjects essential to the practice of law. Courses or portions of courses dealing primarily with profit enhancement or marketing of services will be denied credit [see SCR 31.02].

How do I report?

All attorneys will be required to electronically file their CLE report using the CLE reporting website at clereporting.wicourts.gov/session/new.

It's very important that you keep track of the courses you take (what, when, where, the sponsor's name, and the number of CLE/EPR hours attended).

Legal Education

When do I report?

Your reporting year is determined by your year of admission to practice law in Wisconsin (e.g., if you were admitted in an odd-numbered year, instructions on reporting CLE will be sent by the BBE in the fall of every odd-numbered year).

Keep in mind that the CLE reporting deadline is different from the CLE attendance deadline. Check the BBE website for the correct attendance and reporting dates for your year of admission.

What CLE courses qualify?

The BBE determines which courses qualify to satisfy the CLE/EPR requirements. All CLE seminars that list an amount of CLE credits have either been approved for that credit amount or have credit applications pending before the Board of Bar Examiners.

Never assume courses have been approved for Wisconsin credit. Check the BBE website for a listing of approved CLE courses at wicourts.gov/services/attorney/coursesearch.htm. Attorneys may also earn CLE credit for teaching, publishing legal writing, and pro bono work.

For more on CLE requirements, visit wicourts.gov/services/attorney/cle.htm. Note that noncompliance with the mandatory CLE requirements can result in suspension of your license.

Ready. Set. Practice.

READY. SET. PRACTICE.

As a State Bar member, you never have to go it alone. The Ready. Set. Practice. mentoring program connects new lawyers—or those exploring a new practice area—with experienced attorneys who have six or more years in the field. Gain insight, get answers to ethical and procedural questions, grow your confidence, and build valuable professional connections. Wisbar.org/readysetpractice

Greater Wisconsin Initiative

The State Bar's Greater Wisconsin Initiative encourages attorneys to consider practicing in Greater Wisconsin. We're here to help you learn if rural practice is right for you and provide you with the resources you need to get started. Wisconsin's rural population tops 1.6 million. With many lawyers approaching retirement age, more and more nonurban communities are at risk of losing access to legal services. Why? As attorneys retire, there aren't always other lawyers around to take their place.

Some areas of Wisconsin are already experiencing the consequences of lawyer shortages. More than 60 percent of Wisconsin lawyers are located in the state's three urban counties. On the other hand, a number of nonurban counties have fewer than 10 lawyers each. Many more counties have fewer than 20 lawyers.

What happens when a rural area no longer has a lawyer? Vital legal needs go unmet and access to justice is jeopardized. What does this mean for you as a new lawyer? Opportunities abound all over Wisconsin to establish your practice!

Visit wisbar.org/GWI and see what practicing in rural and smaller communities can offer.

State Bar of Wisconsin RURAL CLERKSHIP PROGRAM

Rural Clerkship Program

The State Bar's Rural Clerkship Program exposes students to the benefits of practicing law in rural Wisconsin by connecting students with employers offering a limited-term, full-time, paid summer employment opportunity. Employment typically lasts eight weeks, starting after the end of the spring semester.

Students (1L and 2L) from Wisconsin and Minnesota law schools who are in good standing and interested in rural practice are eligible for the program. Student clerks gain practical legal experience, and participating employers obtain valuable legal support.

Rural Practice Development Program

The State Bar of Wisconsin's Rural Practice Development Program is an initiative designed to help bridge the gap in legal services in rural communities throughout the state. This program presents a unique opportunity for attorneys to relocate to underserved rural communities, establish or join a practice, immerse themselves in local life, and receive a financial stipend of $10,000.

STATE BAR OF WISCONSIN Rural Practice Development Program

The State Bar offers countless ways to give back—whether by mentoring, volunteering, or sharing your expertise. Use your unique skills to make a difference in the profession and the community. Getting involved is easy.

Wisconsin Law Foundation

As the State Bar's charitable arm, the Wisconsin Law Foundation promotes public understanding of the law. It also works to improve the administration of justice and other law- related public services by funding innovative and creative programs that improve the vision of the American justice system, including:

- Programs focused on developing the next generation of legal leaders
- The Wisconsin High School Mock Trial Program
- New diversity initiatives, speakers, and programs
- Scholarships that help new lawyers reduce debt and establish practices in underserved areas
- Teen Court programs across the state

None of this is possible without contributions from State Bar members like you. To learn more and donate go to wisbar.org/wlf.

Public Education

Wisconsin High School Mock Trial Program

Since its creation in 1983, the Wisconsin High School Mock Trial Program has brought our legal system to life for thousands of students. Using facts and case materials developed by Wisconsin attorneys, students gain a deeper understanding of the court system as they develop their arguments and build their cases.

Every year, hundreds of judges and attorneys are needed to judge mock trials as part of the Wisconsin High School Mock Trial Tournament. Visit wisbar.org/mocktrial to learn how you can get involved.

Pro Bono

For too many Wisconsin residents, equal justice under the law is out of reach because they cannot afford the professional legal help they need. Wisconsin lawyers are uniquely qualified to help close this justice gap by offering their services pro bono.

Pro bono service strengthens your existing skills, exposes you to new areas of law, and helps you network with other professionals. The State Bar supports members who do pro bono work with:

- Pro Bono Initiative grants to develop or expand pro bono legal assistance projects
- Free liability insurance
- Expense reimbursement
- Online pro bono opportunities guide
